FAMILIES FOR EFFECTIVE AUTISM TREATMENT - NORTH TEXAS (FEAT-NT)
ANNOUNCES
2012 AUTISM AND DEVELOPMENTAL DISABILITIES CONFERENCE

FEBRUARY 27, 28 & 29

3rd Annual "Teaching Does Make a Difference" Autism Conference

The 2012 Annual FEAT-NT Autism Conference will be held on February 27, 28 and 29, 2012 at Northwood Church in Keller, Texas. The theme again for this year's FEAT-NT winter conference is "Teaching Does Make a Difference." For over 15 years, FEAT-NT has been dedicated to serving educators, parents, professionals and individuals with Autism Spectrum Disorders and developmental delays. In the spirit of our commitment we are honored to present a conference with a diverse array of professionals with valuable years of experience to share. Recognizing that each teaching opportunity impacts an individual's quality of life and a lifetime of skills and success, these professionals have implemented and refined evidence based teaching strategies that have been proven to be successful.

Workshop Topics

Conference presentations will vary on Young Children/Elementary, Middle/High School Students and Adults, Over 25 presentations in a break out setting will cover topics on behavior management, assessments, classroom teaching, social skills, teaching language and much more. Individuals will find that the tools and techniques presented in this conference are effective for not only Autism Spectrum Disorders, but for other disorders distinguished by developmental delay. Some of the topics overlap as they are appropriate for individuals of all ages and attendees.

3-day and 1-day registration options available

No reduced day discount or refunds. Substitutions allowed.

The 2012 FEAT-NT Autism Spectrum Disorder and Developmental Delay Conference is designed to meet the needs of family members as well as special educators, therapists, psychologists, counselors, and a variety of other autism professionals.
